DWELLING HOUSE DESTROYED.

The Local Fire Department Responded to the Alarm But Could Render no Assistance.

Our people were awakened from their slumbers at an early hour Friday morning by the sounding of the fire alarm. While making his rounds, night watchman A. V. Hower observed that the sky in the direction of Light Street was all aglow and thinking that it was a building on the outskirts of town, he hurried to box 13 and sent in an alarm. The fire companies responded with their customary alacrity and all the hose carriages were out ready for action, but realizing that the location of the conflagation made the use of their apparatus impossible, it being too far from any of the water plugs, the boys after reaching a point a short distance beyond the Town Hall, concluded not to go any farther.

The building, which was, with all its contents, entirely consumed, was the dwelling house of J. J. Mussleman and was located on the left side of the public road leading from Bloomsburg to Light Street, probably one mile beyond town. Mr. Mussleman and family were absent. They had left a day or two previous, leaving the property and some live stock in charge of Harry Zeigler, a young man residing just across the street. He had attended to everything the night before, and as there was no fire about the building the origin is indeed very strange.

The fire had reached an advanced stage of destruction before the Zeigler household was awakened, and had it not been for some hard work on the part of the people who had hurried to the scene, the Zeigler property would also have been consumed.

Mr. Mussleman carried some insurance, but the indemnity will not cover the loss.

ESTIMABLE LADY DEAD.

Death relieved the suffering of Mrs. Harriet Roan shortly after nine o'clock at her home on East street, this town, Monday morning. She had been ill only a few days, suffering with a complication of diseases. Mrs. Roan was aged seventy-two years, seven months and five days. The following children survive. William Roan, of Orangeville, Mrs. Frank Rinker, George C. and Clark, Mrs. C. K. Taylor and Miss Elizabeth. The two last mentioned and Arthur Roan, a grandson, reside at home.

Few women were held in as high esteem as Mrs. Roan. She was of an amiable disposition, kind of heart, gentle of character and a true christian lady, having been a charter member of the Baptist church and always manifested great interest in its success.

The funeral services took place from the house Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. Interment was made in Rosemont Cemetery.

TWO YOUNG HEARTS UNITED.

Arthur Traub and Miss Catharine Richard Assume the Solemn Vows.

In the parlor of the residence of the bride's father, F. J. Richards, on Normal Hill, Arthur Traub and Miss Catharine Richart, were married Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock. The couple, attended by Miss Julia, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, Howard Traub, brother of the groom as best man, and Miss Jennie, sister of the bride as flower girl, entered the parlor, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march rendered by Miss Delia Geisinger, of Espy, and took their places in front of the officiating clergyman, Rev. W. M. Frysinger, who joined their hearts for life.

After the ceremony a supper was served. The guests included only the relatives and a few intimate friends of the families. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Traub departed on a trip to the eastern cities. After their return they will reside in Bloomsburg. The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Traub, of Fernville.

COUNTY INSTITUTE.

REPORTED BY THE SECRETARY.

TUESDAY—CONTINUED FROM LAST WEEK.

Supt. Becht then delivered an interesting address on "Devices in Education." He said in part: One rule will not meet all the requirements of a school. Rules should arise from the occasion for the rule and should never be formal. The teacher is in danger when putting into operation a device which is not his own.

The spelling class may be interested by having each pupil find what he considers the most difficult word in the lesson which the boy at the foot of the class pronounces for the boy next to him to spell. The primary object of devices is to create an interest. A device for remembering the preamble of the Constitution is "flipps." The prismatic colors may be remembered by the use of the letters "vibgyor." In the teaching of Geography more time should be spent on the essentials and less on the non-essentials. No class should be allowed to recite in geography without a map before it. Pupils should be encouraged to ask questions. The globe should not only be used in teaching mathematical geography but also in teaching comparative areas and relative positions. The senses should be trained. Pupils should be allowed to leave the room for two or three minutes, and on their return tell about what they have seen. The teacher has more to do with the device than the device itself, more in the fiddler than in the fiddle.

After music by the institute, Supt. Coughlin addressed the institute on "How to Study." Among other good things he said: All that we attain must come from the side of our own mental activity. It is a great hindrance to the progress of pupils if they are unable to read and understand the language of the text. Thoroughness should be put on the essential parts of the lesson. Pupils should be led to feel the importance and pleasure of a search after truth. It is necessary to keep the mind active on the thought side. The child should be taught to observe, record, infer and express. Knowledge should be so mastered that the child can use it, to gain available knowledge is the great problem of life. Every pupil should have an analytical power when he leaves school.

The afternoon session was opened with singing conducted by O. H. Yetter, after which "Imagination Reading" was discussed by Supt. Becht. He used as the basis of his remarks Nehemiah 8: 8. He spoke of the necessity of mastering the new words and understanding the thought of the lesson. The dictionary should be used more instead of less than any other book in the school The position of the pupil and other mechanical acts should be attended to before the pupil begins to read, otherwise the continuity of the thought will be spoiled. The pupils should learn the peculiarities of the language of literature and also the mythical and historical allusions which are some of the characteristics of literature. The cultivation of the imagination is essential, as no one having a defective imagination is a good reader and is unable to catch the beauty of the thought.

The Institute was then favored with a duet by Messrs. Yetter and Barton.

"Knowing by Thinking" was then ably presented by Supt. Coughlin. In part he said: Teachers should establish a reputation in class-room work. What is the great end of education is a question that each one should answer for himself. It is a mistake to develope the intellectual faculty only. Education should be measured by its utility. It is important to distinguish between the means we employ and the ends we hope to obtain. The results of the work in all branches should converge, not parallel. The teacher should have a high ideal. The child should be taught to be self-helpful so as to be able to support himself when he goes out into the world. Education should lead to the pursuit of happiness, the result of which is joy in old age, and by developing the altruistic spirit the child has faith in mankind.

A large number of teachers then repaired to the Carpet Factory where they were shown through the large factory, and the wonders of carpet manufacture were explained by the kind and obliging manager, Mr. Magee. The din of the machinery prevented the hearing of all that was said, but the eyes of every one were busy not only in viewing the marvelous and ponderous machines, but to catch the pleasant glances of the employees who seemed glad to see the visitors.

The evening lecture on "The Message of the Optimist" by Chas. B. Landis, Congressman of Indiana, was one of the best provided for the teachers of this county in recent years. It was replete with encouragement, making one feel that it is a great privilege to live at the present age, which is better in education, religion and politics than any age since the creation. Before and after the lecture the Berwick Band delighted the large audience with a number of beautiful selections admirably rendered.

WEDNESDAY.

Wednesday morning's session was opened by Rev. Dr. Frysinger. The first period was occupied by Supt. George Howell, of Scranton, who presented the topic; "My Geographical House," in a very able manner.

After singing by the institute Prof. Hartline addressed the teachers on "Zoology for township High Schools." Among other things he said: The education which touches life at most points is of most worth. We should eliminate the old views of bygone days and introduce the new and progressive ideas. The first thing necessary in the teaching of Zoology is for the teacher to inform himself on the subject. this will require hard work, but the things that cost most in soul energy are worth most. The knowledge gained is available in the pupil's every day life. He will understand how the bacteria of plants cause typhoid fever and how to prevent the destructive work of caterpillars and other insects. One way to become informed is to take a Saturday course, either correspondence or at a nearby college or Normal School. Another source of information is in the collecting of specimens. The teacher should secure books on the subject which publishers have prepared in anticipation of the need of them. Field work is necessary. The student of nature should go into the fields and get the air and sunshine, keeping eyes, ears, mind and hearts open.

The enthusiasm of the boys and girls will be aroused by asking them to collect things for study. Animals, plants and insects may be collected. Insects are best because of their number and convenience in handling and preserving. What the teacher needs are ready and skillful fingers to carry on the work. The scientific method of getting at things is developed in the study of insect life. Birds are of great interest in this work on account of their songs, beauty, and the fact that they have souls which develop very much like those of men. Agriculture would be a complete failure without the help of birds.

Supt. Coughlin then addressed the convention in his usual animated manner on the subject "Biography in its Relation to Character Building." Character is a growth. Actions repeated become habits, and habits continued form character. Men are liable to become the mere creatures of habit. Youth is the impressive age. Manhood is the reflective period in which the impressions deepen into convictions. We are, and should be, in a sense hero worshippers. Books of great men who were once poor boys are of great value to young people. The character that will stand under pressure is the right one. Among the traits of character that may be developed by the study of great men are: patriotism, sympathy, self-sacrifice and purpose.

The afternoon session opened at 1:30. After singing by the Institute Supt. Coughlin delivered an address on "Thoroughness in Teaching." He said in part: The work of the teacher is more than hearing recitations. The effect of contact of mind with mind has a moral value that cannot be indicated on the report card. Questions in arithmetic should have a good moral tendency. Moral training is more useful in gaining a livelihood than the knowledge of the text book. When children are deprived of the privilege of attending school the loss of the disciplinary value of the school is to be lamented more than anything else which they may lose. Attendance in a good school means lessons in punctuality, order, system, regularity, opportunity to excel, recognition and approval, and equality.

There should be a demand for shorter school hours. Too much home work is not required of pupils. If all the work could be done in the school the teacher could determine whether the work was done thoroughly or not. The work of children should be simplified as much as possible. If a definite task is assigned to the pupil

HAND TO HAND FIGHT

Lieutenant Van Schaick Has Encounter With Filipinos.

TWICE WOUNDED, BUT WILL RECOVER

The Affray Occurred Near Cavite, and the Insurgents Were Punished—The Visayas Leader to Surrender.

MANILA, Nov. 26.—Second Lieutenant Louis J. Van Schaick of the Fourth infantry, while scouting with a few men of that regiment, met 150 insurgents who had attacked and sacked the hamlet of Siaraca, near Cavite. Upon seeing the Filipinos Van Schaick ordered his men to charge them. The command was obeyed, and Van Schaick, being mounted, reached the insurgents sixty yards in advance of his men. He killed three of them with his revolver.

An insurgent fired his rifle point blank at Van Schaick at four paces, but missed. Lieutenant Van Schaick was then knocked from his horse. He jumped to his feet and engaged in a hand to hand conflict with the enemy, using the butt of his revolver. He sustained two severe wounds, one of which nearly severed his wrist. At this point the lieutenant's men arrived, rescued him and put the insurgents to flight. Van Schaick is in the military hospital at Manila and is doing well. He has already been recommended for a medal of honor for bravery in a previous engagement.

General Hughes, commander of the department of the Visayas, reports that negotiations are about completed for the surrender of the insurgent leader Samson on Bohol island. This surrender will doubtless end the revolt against American authority in Bohol, as Samson is acknowledged to be the chief insurgent leader there.

Fighting Porto Rican Illiteracy.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—M. G. Brumbaugh, commissioner of education for Porto Rico, in his annual report says the 1,000 schools there, good as they are, cannot successfully cope with the tremendous illiteracy and the vast army of children in need of education in Porto Rico. There are 34,000 children in school this year, and the enrollment next year will be 50,000. A large normal school has just been opened at Rio Piedras to meet part of the demand for teachers. An annual appropriation by congress of not less than $300,000 per annum for ten years is urged. This, the report says, would equip the island with proper school facilities for 150,000 additional pupils, which, with the present enrollment, would make above 66 per cent of the school population of the island.

Pittsburg Switchmen Strike.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 26.—Switchmen on seven railroads of Pittsburg, having decided to strike, went out at 6 o'clock this morning. At a meeting of the Brotherhood of Switchmen last night, which was attended by about 600 members, this action was decided upon, and the result of this movement can only be conjectured. In anticipation of possible trouble the Pennsylvania railroad made application to the city police department for sixty officers to be on hand in the Union depot yards at 7 o'clock this morning, and in the Baltimore and Ohio yards fully 100 Pinkertons are on duty. The demand of the men is that the Chicago rate be paid here. This rate is 27 cents an hour for day conductors and 29 cents for night conductors of switch engines; helpers, 25 cents day and 27 cents night.

Miners' Camp Broken Up.

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Nov. 25.—The camp of the striking union miners, a quarter of a mile from Nortonville, in the southeast part of the county, was marched upon yesterday by County Judge Hall, Sheriff J. H. Hankins and two deputies, Adjutant General Murray and his aids, Captains Ellis and Gordon, and two companies of the state guard—the Madisonville company, commanded by Captain Powers, and the Hopkinsville company, under Captain Strang.

Of the 200 men that had been in camp, defying the order of County Judge Hall to move, only twenty-five remained when the officers and the militia descended upon their stronghold. All of these were taken prisoners, though two afterward escaped.

Big Gas Vein Struck.

TIPTON, Ind., Nov. 23.—A fifty million foot gas well came in yesterday on the Hobbs farm, four miles south of this city. The flow came in at 4 o'clock, and when the tools were thrown out the drillers had to run for their lives. The well is equal to if not larger than the celebrated Wallace well which was discovered near Fostoria, O., seven years ago, at that time said to be the biggest gusher on record.

Pan-American Buildings Sold.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—The Chicago House Wrecking company has bought the Pan-American exposition as it stands for $132,000. Secretary S. H. Harris of the company is informed that the offer of the Chicago concern has been accepted. The same concern had the contract for wrecking the World's fair and the Chicago postoffice. The demolition of the exposition will be begun at once.

Half a Million Face Starvation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—John Goodnow, consul general at Shanghai, reports to the state department that there are over half a million people in the Yangtse valley who will starve this winter unless they get help from outside.

ALL FOUND DEAD.

Bodies of Missing Officials Recovered From Burning Mine.

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Nov. 25.—The dead bodies of the lost party of eight well known mining men who entered the West mine of the Pocahontas Collieries company on Friday morning last at 11 o'clock were recovered at 12:45 o'clock yesterday. At 7 o'clock in the morning a rescuing party numbering forty persons entered at the main entrance, brattleing the mine as they went in order to improve the circulation of the air. They had reached a distance of 3,000 feet from the entrance when they encountered such quantities of white damp that it was impossible to proceed farther.

Retracing their steps, they decided to make another attempt from the Tug river entrance, some six miles across the Flat Top mountain. They went in this entrance about 10:30 o'clock, and after going a distance of some 600 feet they found the dead bodies of A. S. Hurst, chief inspector; Bob Odham, subinspector, and Frazier G. Bell, mining engineer, all huddled together. From their positions they must have met death suddenly and without pain. The bodies of the other five men were found a little farther on.

A NIGHT UNDER WATER.

Fifteen Hours at the Bottom of New York Bay Unharmed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—In the presence of a big crowd which despite the storm assembled to witness the emerging of the submarine boat Fulton that craft rose from the bottom of the bay yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock with all well and greatly surprised to find there was a storm raging.

The test of the Fulton's staying powers was highly satisfactory not only to the officers of the company that built her and the naval officers present, but to those who went to the bottom in the boat. They report there was not the slightest discomfort to them during their more than fifteen hours of submersion beneath the surface.

Captain Cable of the Holland company, who was in command, said that the boat could have remained down for three months if there was food enough on board. Although there was but six feet of water over the top of the turret, those on board felt nothing of the storm. Through the night there was a light rolling motion to the craft, but this was ascribed to the regular motion of the water and not to the disturbance which was rolling the waves high on the shore.

THE ROLLER BOAT.

Inventor Gets Her Across the St. Lawrence, but Sticks in the Mud.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Knapp's roller boat has demonstrated its ability to roll. In a blinding snowstorm, with a stiff north wind, it rolled from Prescott across the St. Lawrence river to Ogdensburg, but missed the channel to the upper harbor and rolled into the soft mud on a bar abreast the city and settled hard, surrounded by snow and ice. A steamer following the roller was unable to get near her owing to shallow water. Efforts to tow the boat by long hawsers into deep water were unsuccessful, and she may not be released until spring. The inventor and a stockholder who were on board were taken off in small boats. The inventor claims success.

The boat is 110 feet long and 22 feet in diameter. An engine is suspended in a car in the center. The motive power is applied in the form of a climbing engine. Mr. Knapp says he will now build an ocean roller boat 800 feet long and 200 feet in diameter, with a capacity of 4,000,000 bushels of wheat and a speed of twelve knots an hour.

Greek Cabinet Resigns.

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 25.—As a result of the demonstrations against the proposed translation of the gospels into modern Greek the Grecian cabinet has resigned. This action was taken in spite of King George's efforts to induce the cabinet and M. Theotokis, the premier, to remain in office. M. Theotokis considers the responsibility of a judicial inquiry into the recent riots should be left to another cabinet in order that the truth may be established beyond suspicion.

MARINES ON GUARD.

Americans From Battleship Iowa Land at Colon.

ISTHMIAN TRANSIT IS REOPENED.

Fierce Fighting on the Railroad Line Between Panama and Colon—Bombardment of Latter Town Postponed.

COLON, Nov. 26.—An armed guard of marines from the United States battleship Iowa has re-established the transit across the isthmus, and details from the Iowa's marines are now protecting each passenger train.

There has been fierce fighting at Empire Station, on the railroad line between Panama and Colon, between the insurgents and the troops of the Colombian government, with very heavy losses on both sides.

Transit traffic had been suspended for several hours, when the United States cruiser Iowa landed 200 men.

At a conference Sunday night the commander of the General Pinzon agreed to postpone landing his troops until Friday. The vessel left in the morning, it is supposed for Porto Bello.

Sunday morning at 10 o'clock the schooner Clapet and a railroad barge returned to Panama, bringing 350 men from Chorrera, being the remainder of General Alban's expedition.

Great crowds gathered at the wharf to witness the landing of the soldiers. They were received with bands of music, but the music sounded mournful and more like a funeral march than the joyful strains of welcome to a victorious army. General Alban looked his usual and calm self and acted more like a man on whose hands time hangs heavily for want of something to do than one coping with grave responsibilities under trying circumstances.

At half past 3 in the afternoon at the head of 700 men General Alban left Panama by train for Empire Station, where the Liberals were reported to be in fairly strong numbers. His purpose was to surprise and rout them. The train bearing these troops was held up just before it arrived at the Culebra station owing to the Liberals opening fire on Alban's advance guard. Alban disembarked his men from the train, which returned to Panama. The fighting at Culebra lasted from 4:40 until 9 p. m.

The Revs. Loveridge and Jacobs, Baptist and Wesleyan ministers respectively, narrowly escaped being shot. Their house in Culebra was riddled with bullets.

The government troops continued to advance, and the fighting was stubborn all along the railroad line and continued until Empire Station, a mile and a half distant, was reached. The Liberals continued slowly to retreat, Alban's men following them, until the latter eventually reached Matachin station. Here he met and conferred with Captain Perry of the Iowa, who was returning from Colon on an armored train.

Between the stations of Culebra and Empire over 150 killed and wounded men could be seen along the track. The sight was grewsome. There is no proper Red Cross organization, and the wounded lack care. The Liberals at Colon declare the majority of the men killed on the line to be Conservative troops and that the rebels are still in force along the railroad.

Nebraska's Official Vote.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 26.—The official count for Nebraska of the November election, just completed, shows that Sedgwick, Republican candidate for supreme judge, has a plurality over Hollenbeck, fusion, of 12,659 and a majority over all of 6,751. The regents of the university, Ernst and Calkins, Republicans, have an average plurality of 15,171. The total vote in the state was 204,192.

Oil Gusher In Colorado.

DENVER, Nov. 22.—Specials from Pagosa Springs, Colo., where a company has been drilling for oil for some time, announce that a gusher has been struck at 300 feet. It is not known yet what the extent of the flow is. The strike is 150 miles from the Florence oil district, which has been producing for years.

Ground to Pieces.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Nov. 22.—Benton Robinson, thirty years old, was the victim of a terrible accident yesterday while working near a cylinder at the United States Talc company's mill at Dodgeville. He slipped and fell into a machine used in grinding talc. His body was ground into pulp.

A Heroic Act Rewarded.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Nov. 23.—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company has presented $100 in gold to Harry Baker, a locomotive fireman, for breaking into a burning car and removing twenty cans of powder. The cans were so hot that they burned his hands.

Lost For a Week and Found.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Nov. 23.—Waldo Hart of Parishville, who had been lost in the Adirondacks for a week, has been found. He was in an exhausted condition and had subsisted during the period on small game.

French Indemnity Loan Adopted.

PARIS, Nov. 26.—The chamber of deputies, by a vote of 295 to 249, adopted the sum of 265,000,000 francs for the Chinese indemnity loan, rejecting the smaller sums proposed by the anti-Clericals.

Considine Acquitted.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 22.—The jury in the case of John Considine, accused of the murder of former Chief of Police Meredith, has returned a verdict of acquittal.

HAS LOST HIS SIGHT.

Jules Verne, Famous French Romancer, Reported to Have Become Completely Blind.

Jules Verne, who is reported to have become totally blind at his home in Amiens, France, has been a sufferer with deficient eyes for a long time. The great romancer of science is now in his seventy-third year, but he has never ceased his literary work, even after his sight began to fail. He published a novel only three years ago,

JULES VERNE.
(Famous French Novelist Has Completely Lost His Sight.)

and, although this did not bear the vigorous stamp of his early work, it was by no means weak. M. Verne recently distinguished himself by declining a seat in the French academy for the second time. He began his literary career as a dramatist and for 13 years labored successfully in the field as a writer of comedies. It was not until 1863 that he published the first of the stories upon which his fame was to rest. This was "Five Weeks in a Balloon." Its immediate and rebounding success induced M. De Verne to continue to exploit himself in this direction and the result was that widely read series of romances which have delighted the world, young and old, for 30 years or more. M. Verne's chief amusement since his youth has been yachting. He owns a fine steam yacht and his happiest days have been those spent on its decks.

No New Women There.

It is extremely difficult for Chinese of the higher classes to find husbands for their daughters whose feet have attained the natural size. It is thought that women who desire unmaimed feet are actuated by no honorable motive, the crippling making it difficult for them to go about and keeping them more closely at home than would be the case if they had full use of the stunted members. Love between husband and wife as it exists among Christian people is unknown in China, and it is a subject that it is not considered decorous to discuss. Suicide is common among women of all classes, and aside from grief after bereavement, unhappiness in marriage is the most common cause of such tragedies. Hundreds of wives, it is estimated, end their lives every year in Peking alone.

NATURE'S CURE
TRADE MARK

It Makes Restful Sleep.

Sleeplessness almost invariably accompanies constipation and its manifold attendant evils—nervous disorders, indigestion, headache, loss of appetite, etc. To attempt to induce sleep by opiates is a serious mistake, for the brain is only benumbed and the body suffers. Celery King removes the cause of wakefulness by its soothing effect on the nerves and on the stomach and bowels.

WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, Nov. 23, 1901.

"Senator, what will be the Democratic policy in the fifty-seventh Congress?" I asked Senator Vest, of Missouri, in his comfortable home on P. St yesterday. "Watch and wait," was the reply. "What else can we do? The Republicans have a majority of two to one in the Senate and a large majority in the House. No, the Democrats will not attempt any obstruction methods. The people have sent a large Republican majority to Congress, they have the privilege, and the responsibility of sending whom they please to represent them and it is only right that we should abide by the results."

"Will the people be pleased with the results?" "That remains to be seen. Everyone knows that the Republican high tariff policy has built up the trusts and that those trusts are selling the same goods to foreign consumers for from twenty-five to forty per cent less than to the American consumers; but if the people enjoy it, it is their privilege to perpetuate this condition of affairs. Of course, the weak spot in the Republican armor is the trusts. Mr. Roosevelt, who is more fearless and more honest than his party, appreciates this and he would like to curtail their privileges and curb their rapacity but, mark my words, there will be no change in tariff schedules and no reciprocity treaties ratified. The manufacturers and the large capitalists who control the Republican party will not permit it. Sooner or later the people will realize the injustice that is being done to them, and when they do, there will be a revulsion of feeling. Until then, the Democrats have nothing to do but to watch and wait."

"How would you prevent the trusts, Senator?" "Simply by removing the conditions that have produced them. The trusts are the natural product of artificial conditions. The distruction of competition by high protection has resulted in trusts. Restore competition, and the trusts will fall. They tell us England has trusts. It is not so. Mr. W. L. Wilson went to England and made a careful investigation and he assures me they have no trusts. The paper manufacturers once organized one and put up prices, but the newspapers promptly placed their orders with French and American manufacturers and the trust fell to pieces. When the American trusts charge exorbitant prices the consumer cannot buy elsewhere because of the tariff, and the trusts know it and naturally they use their powerful influence to perpetuate the party that makes their existence possible."

The Reciprocity Convention, which is now in session in Washington, is presenting, in a ludicrous manner, the Republican position on reciprocity. Mr. Charles Heber Clark expressed the sentiments of his colleagues when he said, "Like the famous patriot who was willing to have all his wife's relatives go to war, they will agree to the injury or distruction of a few American industries if they can thus obtain a chance to sell more of their own production." Everyone is willing that someone else should be sacrificed, provided his own interests are not touched and no one is willing to relinquish one cent of profit for the good of the whole country.

There is good reason to believe that there will be a serious lack of harmony in the House during the coming Congress, but nothing will be accomplished that will interfere with the trusts paying their present profits on watered stock. Representative Burton of Ohio, a portion of whose district is in the City of Cleveland, has given notice of his intention to fight Senator Hanna's ship-subsidy bill. Mr. Boutell will fight the present schedules of the Dingley bill. Representative Babcock will fight the Steel Trust and altogether there is promise of a lively session. I overheard yesterday, a Republican senator lamenting the absence of Speaker Reed. He said that no man could control an unruly House like "The Czar."

Representative John F. Shafroth, of Colorado, has just returned from the Philippines and brings with him a tale of woe. He predicts that for years we will be obliged to maintain there an army of not less than thirty thousand men at an annual cost of $45,000,000 which is more than the islands will afford in the form of taxes. He does not believe they will be a source of assistance in establishing an Asiatic trade and altogether he considers our Oriental acquisitions a very bad bargain.

An example of the extravagant methods of the present administration is shown by the present reorganization by Secretary of the Interior, Hitchcock, of his division of forestry, and the appointment at its head of Professor Filibert Roth, a former subordinate of Mr. Gifford Pinchot, Chief of the Bureau of Forestry of the Department of Agriculture. The Bureau of Forestry was already in existence, thoroughly equipped and conducted by an eminently competent chief. It had already done a large amount of preliminary work on the fifty million acres of forest reserves which will be the chief care of Secretary Hitchcock's division, and was more capable of properly conducting the work than the Interior division can hope to be for years. Every consideration of economy favored the transfer of the vast area of forest reserve to the care of the Bureau of Forestry. An effort was made to accomplish this end during the last Congress, but was defeated by the Republican spoilsmen because the Bureau of Forestry was conducted under the civil service classification and the division of forestry has the disposition of a "lump fund" of $300,000 which is distributed entirely on the lines of patronage to about five hundred appointees.

It is a common report in Washington that the gravest abuses exist in the alleged care of our forest reserves and some of Secretary Hitchcock's recent orders give evidence that he is acquainted with their existence. The fact that 26,000,000 board feet of lumber and 21,000 cords of wood were sold last year for a total of $30,000, which means that the government received about $1 per thousand board feet for lumber and about 15 cents per cord for fire wood, is in itself indicative of a condition which requires correction.

Professor Roth is an earnest and capable man, but, restricted as he will be in his new position by the red tape of the Land Office and the spoils system which governs his subordinates, it is not to be anticipated that he will be able to materially remedy existing conditions.

The remarkable meekness with which Secretary of the Treasury Gage receives the continued snubs of the President and his absolute refusal to understand that his resignation would be more appreciated than his presence in the Cabinet is a source of amazement and mortification to his friends. When the President recently appointed Senator Stranahan to the Collectorship of New York, the first intimation that Mr. Gage received was on a card which Mr. Stranahan brought him, saying that he had been appointed.

The Ideal Farmer.

The "jack of all trades" may be a master of none; usually he is. But the farmer who would succeeed must be a jack of all trades and master of all, observes the New York Independent. His business, if the oldest of human callings, is also far and away the most difficult; and that is precisely why comparatively few farmers are really successful. The farmer who succeeds in any such degree as the business or professional man may succeed combines with the "horse sense" that he claims for himself a great deal of scientific knowledge and business genius. He understands soils and sunsets; roots and animals; machinery and human nature, and, above all, the market, the town meetings, and the Board of Assessors. He is in short, the brainest kind of an all-round man, and there are not a great many of him.

Uniform World Postage.

The suggestion, which came originally from Australia, that there should be a uniform postage of two cents for letters to all parts of the world, has been approved by Italy, Switzerland, Egypt and some South American States, while Germany has disapproved. England, France, Russia and Austria have united in the suggestion that the whole question should be referred to the next postal world's congress, to be held at Rome in 1902.

A Christmas Legend.

Ever since that first Christmas Eve the cock has crowed all night long on the anniversary to keep away evil spirits; for the cock is a holy bird and a knowing one. There is a pleasant tale of him and Saint Stephen, the first martyr, whose day is December 26, close by his dear Lord's.

Saint Stephen was King Herod's steward, it seems, who served him in the kitchen and at table. One night as he was bringing in the boar's head for his master's dinner he saw the Star shining over Bethlehem. Immediately he set down the huge platter and exclaimed,—

"No longer, Herod, will I be thy servant, for a greater King than thou is born."

"What aileth thee?" cried the King wrathfully. "Do you lack meat or drink that you would desert my service for another's?"

"Nay," answered Stephen. "I lack neither meat nor drink. But the Child that is born this night is greater than all of us; and Him only will I serve."

"That is as true," quoth Herod, smiting the table with his fist, "as that this roast cock on the platter shall crow before us."

Hardly were the words out of his mouth when the cock stretched his neck and crowed lustily, "Christus natus est!" At this proof that Stephen's words were true, Herod was so angry that he made his soldiers take Stephen outside the walls of Jerusalem and stone him to death. And this is the reason why, unto this day, Saint Stephen is the patron of stone-cutters.—ABBIE FARWELL BROWN in December Lippincott's Magazine.

To Build Steel Cars.

Plans have been taken up by the officials of the Pennsylvania railroad company for the erection of a large steel car plant. It is the purpose of the company to manufacture all the rolling stock used on the system, and, according to reports the contemplated plant will be ready for operation about April 1. The company now makes its own locomotives, box cars and a large percentage of the passenger equipments, and by reason of its control of two of the largest steel companies in the country is enabled to take up the manufacture of steel freight cars.

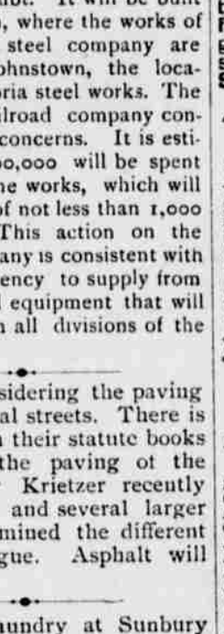
The location of the proposed plant is a matter of doubt. It will be built either at Steelton, where the works of the Pennsylvania steel company are located, or at Johnstown, the location of the Cambria steel works. The Pennsylvania railroad company controls both these concerns. It is estimated that $2,000,000 will be spent in establishing the works, which will have a capacity of not less than 1,000 cars a month. This action on the part of the company is consistent with the general tendency to supply from its own plants all equipment that will be necessary on all divisions of the system.

Milton is considering the paving of their principal streets. There is an ordinance on their statute books providing for the paving of the streets. Mayor Krietzer recently visited Buffalo and several larger cities and examined the different systems in vogue. Asphalt will likely be used.

A Chinese laundry at Sunbury was robbed Saturday night. The proprietor Lam Kee was bound and gagged and his savings amounting to nearly $1800 stolen.

Strong Again.

The woman who knows the full value of health is the woman who has lost it and regained it; the woman who from being weak and sickly is once again made a strong woman. Half a million weak and sickly women have been made strong and well by the aid of Dr. Pierce and his "Favorite Prescription." It cures the ills which weaken women. It regulates the periods, dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It nourishes the nerves and so cures nervousness. It promotes a healthy appetite and induces refreshing sleep.



"I had female trouble for eight years," writes Mrs. L. J. Dennis, of 828 East College Street, Jacksonville, Ills. "Words cannot express what I suffered. I sought relief among the medical profession and found none. Friends urged me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I commenced taking this medicine I weighed ninety-five pounds. Now I weigh one hundred and fifty-six pounds—more than I ever weighed before. I was so bad I would lie from day to day and long for death to come and relieve my suffering. I had internal inflammation, a disagreeable drain, bearing-down pain, and such distress every month, but now I never have a pain—do all my own work and am a strong and healthy woman."

Use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets with "Favorite Prescription" if the bowels are inactive or irregular.

Will Bridge the River.

The Pennsylvania Railroad, says the Sunbury Item, is making preparations to lay a switch at Riverside prior to constructing an iron bridge across the Susquehanna from Riverside to Danville. It is thought the bridge will cross near the dividing line of Gearhart township and Riverside borough. A tower will also be erected. When completed this will give the Pennsylvania road an outlet on the other side of the Susquehanna river.

Getting Thin

is all right, if you are too fat; and all wrong, if too thin already.

Fat, enough for your habit, is healthy; a little more, or less, is no great harm. Too fat, consult a doctor; too thin, persistently thin, no matter what cause, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil.

There are many causes of getting too thin; they all come under these two heads: over-work and under-digestion.

Stop over-work, if you can; but, whether you can or not, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, to balance yourself with your work. You can't live on it—true—but, by it, you can. There's a limit, however; you'll pay for it

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the readiest cure for "can't eat," unless it comes of your doing no work—you can't long be well and strong, without some sort of activity.

The genuine has this picture on it, take no other.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

he will work earnestly to finish it and will be filled with joy at its completion.

A vocal solo was then rendered by Miss Hettie Cope, after which Dr. Hemingway said a few words about the pamphlets containing his sermon on the death of ex-President McKinley. Each teacher received a copy free of charge.

Dr. Paul F. Peck of the Normal School then presented an able paper on "The Influence of English upon American History." In the course of his talk he said: There are no miracles in history, it is all cause and effect. The United States is not an example of isolated growth, but were inexorably connected with the religious and political ideas of England. The Oriental method was without annexation; the Roman method conquest with incorporation but no representation; the English method was incorporation of the people into national life by representation. Our system of government had its origin in the representative government of England. The fundamental principle of government is "No Taxation Without Representation." The rise of Puritanism against Catholicism resulted in the Puritan immigration to America, for which we should be thankful to England. While it is claimed by some that Holland, France and Switzerland influenced the Americans in writing the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution, the influence as a matter of fact was preeminently English. The literary influence of English authors has had much to do with our history. The effect of American upon English history during the Revolution was the granting, by England, more liberty to her colonies in Australia and India. While our relationship with England has not always been friendly we now esteem her as our nearest friend, and our relations with each other need to be taught by our teachers.

The next period was occupied by Supt. Howell who spoke on "Books."

The entertainment by Maro, the Magician, was of a highly interesting nature. Many of his tricks border on the supernatural. The large auditorium was literally packed with people and even standing room was at a premium. The Bloomsburg Band furnished music before, during and after the exercise.

THURSDAY.

The Thursday morning session was opened by singing by the Institute, after which Rev. McLinn read the third chapter of St. John and made a few remarks.

State Superintendent N. C. Schaeffer then gave a very interesting address on the orations of Webster, Calhoun and Seward. Although each of these men were aspirants for the presidency, the good they accomplished in their orations was infinitely greater than they could have accomplished had they been elected to that high position. Henry Clay who also delivered a great oration about the same time also failed in his ambition to become president. The essentials of a great oration are (1) A momentous question, (2) An audience, (3) Interest on the part of the masses, and (4) The announcement of a great truth. Clay's speech lacked the latter element which cost him the loss of the high position for which he aspired. The sentence in the oration of Seward, "There is a law higher than the constitution governing the country," lost Seward the presidency. Mr. Schaeffer closed with a very strong argument deprecating the habit of historians and the press in emphasizing wars too much, and in lauding generals and admirals as though to attain such positions were the only means of becoming great. He asserted that pupils should study great orations more than great wars.

Mrs. Dr. Croswell then gave an interesting talk on "Drawing and School Room Decorations." The dingy walls of a school room may be beautified with an inexpensive application of plaster or kalsomine. The appearance of the room may also be improved by the use of curtains, ferns—either as growing or pressed, and leaves. The best drawing is not in copying pictures but trees, birds and objects brought by the pupil into the school room should be drawn. A number of helps in drawing were mentioned.

The afternoon session was opened by a song service, after which Dr. J. P. Welsh addressed the institute on the "Personality of the Teacher." In part he said: A few of our teachers stand out prominently on account of their great personality. It has been said that Mark Hopkins on one end of a log and a pupil on the other would make a college. The teacher should have a personality that reaches the inner life of the pupil. Dr. Stanley Hall on being asked whether he would test a pupil on the lesson of the previous day replied that he would have the teacher so on fire with his subject that a test on the next day would not be necessary. The teacher without a personality uses the pouring in method of teaching. Character originally meant to inscribe, and later to thoughts that were to be preserved. Another element of success is agreeableness in manners. Children soon discover the snarling scolding disposition of teachers. The young man with rude manners and untidy appearance has a poor chance of securing a position. Right ways become habitual. Another element is to be wide awake and up to-date. Many dislike innovations but such are generally the lazy ones. It is a good plan to relieve teachers who are not successful in a certain school by allowing them to exchange places with another teacher. The teacher should seek to grow into that true nobility of character which makes any teacher great.

State Superintendent Schaeffer then delivered an address clearly showing the value of education.

The report of the committee on teachers' literature was then presented as follows:

Mr. Superintendent and fellow teachers, of Columbia county, your Reading Course Committee respectfully submit the following report:

As new reading for the year we recommend Educational Foundations, "History of Education," Seeley; Emerson's American Scholar, Self-reliance and Compensation."

We also recommend the continuance upon the course of the following books:,

Thinking and learning to think, by State Supt. N. C. Schaeffer, and Jukes—Edwards, by A. E. Winship.

We further suggest that the school boards throughout the county purchase a copy of Berkey's New Manual and Guide for Teacher, published by R. L. Myers & Co., and place a copy of these in every school room—a view to uniform grading throughout the county.

In view of the fact that Carpenter's Geographical Readers and Goho's Pennsylvania Reader have given excellent satisfaction throughout the county we would respectfully recommend their adoption as supplementary readers, by the various boards of education.

S. J. JOHNSTON, E. B. BEISHLINE,
ANNA KITCHEN, VERNE JONES,
MARIE KSHINKA.

Hon. Wm. T. Creasy then favored the Institute with a short address in which he pointed out the fact that every one expects the teacher to make a success of his work. That preparation of the lesson on the part of the teacher is necessary; that the disposition of the pupil should be studied and that the teacher and farmer are alike in that both are to a great extent in constant touch with nature.

In the evening a good sized audience assembled in Normal Auditorium to listen to a lecture on Abraham Lincoln, by George Howell, City Superintendent of the schools of Scranton, but instead of a lecture on that great man, the audience was thoroughly disgusted by the fellow who shamefully attacked the character of General Geo. B. McClellan.

Before the lecture music was furnished by the Bloomsburg Band, which together with the songs and cake walk by the Gross Tots was greatly appreciated by the audience.

The Friday morning's session was opened by a devotional service conducted by Rev. Sodd.

Mrs. Ella Fox Gilbert, of Philadelphia, then favored the Institute with a charming solo in her beautiful contralto voice.

Physical Training in our public schools was then ably presented by Dr. Aldinger, of the Normal School. He said: Many parents are sending their children to school expecting them to receive not only intellectual training but physical training as well. A school not having provisions for physical training is not considered an up-to-date school. Great progress has recently been made in the line of physical training. The law now requires the teaching of gymnastics in first and second class cities, but the day is not far distant when these branches will have to be taught in smaller towns as well. The work of gymnastics must be applicable to the needs of the pupil. The younger as well as the older pupils can be taught to carry the chest forward, the hips back and head erect. The ranks of athletes in college are supplied by students from the Normal schools, and the day is coming when the vacancies in the Normal School will be filled by boys from the schools of the town and country districts. The reports of the committees were then given.

The report of the committee on resolutions is as follows:

Officers and members of the Columbia County Teachers' Institute.

GREETING:—We your Committee on Resolutions beg leave to submit the following report:

WHEREAS, The Institute now about to close has been prolific of great good to the teachers of Columbia county, now therefore be it

Resolved, That we most cordially commend the wise, intelligent and efficient administration of Supt. Jno. K. Miller, that we have seen the Institute grow and prosper and increase in number and intelligence from year to year and we attribute these results greatly to the industry and devotion of Supt. Miller.

Resolved, That we hereby extend a rising vote of thanks to the good people of Bloomsburg for their generous hospitality as extended to us during our sojourn here.

Resolved, That our thanks are due in an especial manner to the management of the various industries, including the Magee Carpet Works, the Bloomsburg Silk Mill, the Wirt Pen Factory and others for their kindness in admitting the teachers to their establishments and their courtesy in permitting the educators of the rising generation to witness some of those processes of industry by which the raw material of field and mine is converted as by the touch of the magician's wand into articles of value, utility and beauty.

Resolved, That we also thank the Board of Trustees of the State Normal School for the use of the Normal Auditorium, the principal and faculty for their generous attention, the kind friends who by their presence encouraged us, His Honor Judge Little and the Commissioners of Columbia county for the gratuitous use of the Court House.

Resolved, That we extend a rising vote of thanks to Rev. Hemingway for being instrumental in presenting to the teachers that beautiful tribute to our late martyred President, Wm. McKinley, seeing as we do in this gift an evidence of those golden and fraternal chords which should bind together church, the school, and home, and that we also thank Prof. Orval Yetter and all others who in any way contributed to the success of this Institute.

Resolved, That we recommend to our representatives in the State Legislature the enactment of a law compensating school directors for their attendance at the session of the Directors' Institute, to the end that a larger attendance be secured, thus benefitting all school interests throughout the county.

Resolved, That we favor the establishment of township high schools under the existing laws, in order that the children of the rural districts be accorded equal educational privileges.

Respectfully submitted,
MISS BLANCHE FRITZ,
MISS ANNA KESTER,
MISS BESS J. TURNER,
S. J. JOHNSTON,
A. U. LESHER.

Mr. Magee then gave a description of carpet manufacture. This company began business in Bloomsburg in 1889. It is capitalized at $200,000 and employs 380 hands. The wage roll is about $6,000 per month. The monthly product is 150,000 yards of ingrain, tapestry, velvet and carriage goods. The product is shipped from Maine to Mexico and from New York to San Francisco. There is a good example of the division of labor, as it receives the wool from abroad, spins it into yarn and weaves the yarn into carpet. It may be a surprise to many that no domestic wool is used in the manufacture of carpet, but comes from China, Turkey, Scotch highlands and the Argentine. The mill also produces carpet both by the printing process and also by the jacquard looms, by which the ingrains are woven. The company also controls a patent cutter for weaving velvet carpets by which a great deal of waste is saved. Seeing the many processes through which the wool passes before it becomes a piece of carpet, makes one realize how intricate a fabric a piece of carpet is.

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism—that acid condition of the blood which affects the muscles also.

Sufferers dread to move, especially after sitting or lying long, and their condition is commonly worse in wet weather.

"It has been a long time since we have been without Hood's Sarsaparilla. My father thinks he could not do without it. He has been troubled with rheumatism since he was a boy, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine he can take that will enable him to take his place in the field." MISS ADA DOTY, Sidney, Iowa.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove the cause of rheumatism—no outward application can. Take them.

New Trolley Line.

The work on the new trolley line from Hazleton to this city, says the Wilkes-Barre Record, is rapidly progressing and many men are at work pushing the roadway. There are gangs of thirty and forty men all along the line from Hazleton to a point near Ashley and something over twelve miles has already been graded. It will be a long time before they can begin to lay rails, as much rock is being encountered, especially on the mountains. W. E. Brown, who in 1873 was a well-known railroad contractor of this city and has been south for several years, and who assisted in laying out the Dallas trolley line, has a foremanship on the road and has a large gang of men working from Drums. He has two shifts of sixty men that are working a mile apart and are now in a twenty-foot cut. All along the Nescopeck Mountain men are to be seen and the contractors are doing their best to finish their various sections. The line will be twenty-seven miles in length.—Shickshinny Echo.

Inclement weather interfered with the attendance at the church services on Sunday. The order of Knights of the Golden Eagle attended the services in the Reformed Church, which made the congregation there quite large. Rev. Thomas had prepared a special and appropriate sermon for the Sir Knights, and he delivered it with great earnestness.

The upsetting of a coal oil stove in Mrs. David Lowenberg's kitchen created considerable excitement Wednesday morning. The flames leaped to the ceiling of the small interior and threatened destruction. The blaze was smothered with some carpet before much damage was done. People in the alley observed smoke issuing from the roof in large volumes and an alarm was sent in from box 13.

Charles D. Breon, who has been connected with the Normal School for the past few years, as instructor on the violin, will leave on Monday next for Oshkosh, Wisconsin, where he will play in one of the leading musical organizations of that city. His many friends at the School and in the town, will regret to see him leave, but he will take with him the best wishes of all for his future success.

The local postmaster has received a warning from the Postal Department, to be on the lookout for an alleged swindler, named Cohen, who has practised frauds by means of money orders. His plan is to go to a small post office and purchase a money order for a sum less than a dollar. Frequently the postmasters forget to mark over the dollar mark and Cohen takes advantage of this to insert sums up to $40. He then visits a store, makes a purchase and tenders the order in payment, receiving the change.

COMMITTEE.

The Leader Store Co. Ltd. are ably helped in taking care of their increasing business, by Mr. A. H. Cook who has full charge of their accounts and office. He has perfected a system of ratail book-keeping so accurate, that in a dispute as to the correctness of an account, the "treats" are usually on "the other fellow." Mr. Cook possesses the full confidence of the stockholders of the company.

The lecture delivered last Thursday evening by Mr. Howell of Scranton, at the Normal Auditorium, called forth a storm of indignation, and he is fortunate that he escaped being hissed off the stage. His subject was "Abraham Lincoln," but he took occasion to criticise Gen. Geo B. McClellan very severely, calling him a coward and otherwise alluding to him in terms that aroused the ire of a large number of people in the audience. Mr. Howell was not on the regular course of Institute lectures, but was put on for Thursday evening because there was nothing else on hand, and he was permitted to fill in the time for want of something better. It is due to Supt. Miller to say that he was not acquainted with Mr. Howell's lecture, and if he had been, Mr. Howell would not have had an opportunity to deliver it. The memory of Abraham Lincoln needs no defender in these days, and much less does it need to be defended by an attempt to detract from the character and services of another who figured so prominently in the events of those stirring times. If Mr. Howell will only come back here and deliver that lecture at a time when eggs are plentiful and in a thoroughly ripened condition, he will probably have an interesting time.

FROM EAST BENTON.

Work Begun on New Enterprise—Other Items.

Now that a charter was granted to the Pine Creek Oil Company week ago last Wednesday of which J. B. McHenry, of Benton, is President; J. F. Kingsley, of Cambra, Vice President; D. C. Brittain, of Register, Secretary; and Alfred McHenry, of Cambra, Treasurer; they contracted last Friday with an operator by the name of Shearer for boring three wells to a great depth —one near the site of the old "salt well or later oil well," one above Jonestown and the third probably on Green Creek. Work began last Monday, clearing off the ground preparatory to the erection of a derrick. The boring, according to contract, is to commence within thirty days, but the contractor intends to begin within fifteen days. A thorough test will now be made and if great mineral deposits are here in the heart of the earth, the earth must now yield her hidden treasures to this progressive and determined company. Over ten thousand acres of land has been leased by this company and more will be added.

Mrs. Sally Ashelman, of East Benton township, was butted by a buck sheep last Thursday and but for her daughter Pauline and other timely aid she would no doubt have been butted to death.

There is still considerable corn standing in the shock among the farmers of this locality?

Notwithstanding the great amount of rain the streams and wells are exceedingly low in many places.

The people living along the free mail delivery routes feel highly gratified with this kind of postal service.

Cambra and Benton will now be connected by mail facilities through the free delivery system. A closed pouch will be carried to and from the above named places. This will obviate the necessity of the mails between those places to be sent the circuitous routes via Bloomsburg and Shickshinny and vice versa.

The Coronation Ceremony.

What Will Happen When Edward VII. is Crowned King of England.

Now comes the first great ceremony of the coronation. Grouped round their Majesties are the Bishops, their supporters; four great nobles bearing the pointed Sword of Temporal Justice, the blunted Sword of Spiritual Justice, Curtana, or the Sword of Mercy, and the Sword of State; other great nobles bearing the various articles of the regalia; the great officers of State; Garter King of Arms; the officers of the Household; as well as the Queen's officers and supporters, with her ladies behind her chair.

There is a moment of breathless expectation, for all are aware that it is the recognition of the monarch by his people which is now about to be symbolized. Slowly and majestically the King stands up in his chair and shows himself to his people at every one of the four sides of the theatre. Meanwhile, Frederick Temple, Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, turns his goodly presence to the east side. Mark with him the lowlier figure of Lord Halsbury, England's Lord High Chancellor, with the bearded Duke of Norfolk, Hereditary Earl Marshal, and the Lord Great Chamberlain and the Lord High Constable. Preceded by Garter King of Arms, they go to the other three sides of the theatre, and at each side the Archbishop says in a loud voice, "Sirs, I here present unto you King Edward VII., the undoubted King of this realm; wherefore all you that come this day to do our homage, are ye willing to do the same?" And on each side the answer is returned in the long and continued acclamations of the people present, crying out, "God save King Edward VII.!" The trumpets sound a ratification of this curious survival, which leads our minds back through the receding vistas of history to those dim ages where the roots of monarchy may be traced in the victorious warrior's being acclaimed over-lord by his brother chieftains.—MRS. BELLOC-LOWNDES, in December Lippincott's.

RIGHT UP TO DATE.

(Benson's Plaster is Pain's Master.)

These are days of records and of the beating of records. Benson's Porous Plaster, for quickness of action and thoroughness of cure, has no records to beat except its own.

Benson's Plaster, always the best, always the leader, is to-day better than ever. It sticks to the skin but never sticks in its tracks. It marches on.

The people not only want to be cured but cured quickly—and Benson's Plaster does it. Coughs, colds, lumbago, asthma, bronchitis, liver and kidney complaints, and other ills approachable by an external remedy, yield to Benson's as ice does to heat.

Neither Belladonna, Strengthening or Capsicum plasters are to be compared with Benson's. People who have once tested the merits of Benson's Plaster have no use for any other external remedy.

More than 5,000 physicians and druggists (and a thousand times as many non-professional persons) have called Benson's Plasters one of the few (!) home remedies that can be trusted.

Fifty-five highest awards have been made to it in competition with the best known plasters of Europe and America. Better proof of its merits is inconceivable. Be sure to get the genuine.

For sale by all druggists, or we will prepay postage on any number ordered in the United States, on receipt of 25c. each.

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

One of the Finest In Pennsylvania Dedicated at Towanda.

TOWANDA, Pa., Nov. 26.—The dedication of the beautiful soldiers and sailors' monument took place here today with great pomp and ceremony. Governor Stone and staff, General Daniel E. Sickles, General Horatio King, Levi G. McCauley, department commander G. A. R., and other notables were present. In the parade which occurred previous to the dedicatory ceremony were several companies of state troops, led by the Ninth Regiment band, Grand Army posts, Sons of Veterans, independent batteries and many civic bodies.

The monument cost $20,000 and is said to be the most beautiful of its kind in Pennsylvania. It is thirty-three feet high, cut out of solid Vermont granite from a design by Passiteur. On two sides are striking basreliefs, one representing the battle of Antietam, the other Pickett's charge at Gettysburg. The four figures surrounding the base represent infantry, cavalry, artillery and the navy. The whole is surmounted by the figure of a color bearer.

The monument stands directly in front of the new two hundred thousand dollar courthouse, facing the main street of the town.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Secretary Wilson's Report Shows Substantial Improvements.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The annual report of the secretary of agriculture, Hon. James Wilson, is considerably larger than in former years. The secretary announces an important extension of the forecast field of the weather bureau, which now includes reports from certain points in the British isles and on the continent of Europe, from the Azores, Nassau, Bermuda and Turk's island. The Atlantic forecasts based upon these reports now form part of the regular night forecasts issued in Washington. Three new forecast districts have been established—in Boston, New Orleans and Denmark. An extension of the forecast to farmers through the rural free delivery is contemplated. Substantial improvements are reported in the department's system of wireless telegraphy.

A large portion of the report covers the subject of animal industry. The grand total of animals and animal products exported during the year exceeded $250,000,000 in value.

The organization of the bureau of plant industry is reported.

Another of the newly organized bureaus is that of forestry. The secretary reports that this bureau is co-operating with the federal government, with several states and many private owners in handling their forest lands. Altogether assistance has been asked for a total area of 52,000,000 acres, of which 4,000,000 are held by private owners. The work of forest management is reviewed in some detail.

The secretary expresses the belief that irrigation will in the near future become a subject for legislation by congress, there being important reasons why it should have the attention of that body.

Twenty-nine Bodies Found.

TELLURIDE, Colo., Nov. 22.—The number of victims of the terrible disaster in the Smuggler-Union mine is now known to be at least twenty-nine, with a considerable portion of the mine yet unexplored. Besides the twenty-two bodies taken out and identified Wednesday night seven were located yesterday afternoon in the north end of the ninth level, but the gas is still too strong to permit the rescuers to reach them, and their identity is as yet unknown. Several members of the searching parties were overcome in their efforts to bring out the bodies. It probably will be several hours before they can be reached or any further explorations made.

No More Prizefights In Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 26.—Governor Durbin says he will not allow any more prizefights to occur in Indiana if it shall be within his power to prevent them. He said the sporting element had been fairly warned, and if it shall be possible he will cause the arrest not only of the principals, but of the backers, trainers and promoters of the prizefights. Fights have been scheduled for Alexandria and Muncie on Thanksgiving evening.

Mrs. Bryan is Cured.

Read Her Letter to Mrs. Pinkham.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was sick for two years with falling of the womb and inflammation of the ovaries and bladder. I was bloated very badly. My left limb would swell so I could not step on my foot. I had such bearing-down pains I could not straighten up or walk across the room, and such shooting pains would go through me that I thought I could not stand it. My mother got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told me to try it. I took six bottles and now, thanks to your wonderful medicine alone, I am a well woman.

"I wish every woman suffering with female weakness would begin its use at once."—MRS. ELSIE BRYAN, Otisville, Mich.

How many women there are who suffer just like Mrs. Bryan did! If you ask such sufferers what treatment they have, you will find they are depending upon some professional theorist who has never cured a case of uterine or ovarian trouble, or you will find that they went to their druggist to get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and were advised by the dealer to take something else. You may be sure that such suffering from female derangement will not exist when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is used. This statement finds overwhelming verification in the grateful letters from women.

When you ask for Mrs. Pinkham's medicine at your dealer's, you may safely distrust the motives of any one who asks you to take something else in place of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

GREAT BETS IN HISTORY.

Some of the Largest Wagers of Which There Is Any Existing Record.

Lord George Bentinck, in 1843, in betting on his horse Gaper, for the Derby, stood to win £150,000 ($720,000), but saved himself upon Cornerstone, and netted £30,000 ($144,000), says the New York Herald.

Another time a bet of £90,000 ($432,000) against £30,000 ($144,000) was booked between old Lord Glasgow and Lord George Bentinck.

The marquis of Hastings bet and lost £103,000 ($494,000) on the Hermit's Derby.

Bell & Co., of Wall street, in August, 1900, had $250,000 placed in their hands to bet on President McKinley's reelection, at odds of 2½ to 1. Their offer was absorbed in fractions.

Lord Dudley bet £24,000 to £8,000 on Peter in a race at Ascot with a bookmaker named Morris. Peter was beaten.

A syndicate headed by a man named Lambert won £90,000 on Don Juan in the Cesarewitch at Newmarket in 1883.

$25,000,000 For Rolling Stock.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—The expenditures to be made by the Pennsylvania Railroad company in 1902 for rolling stock will aggregate $25,000,000, a sum unprecedented in railroad history. Of this amount about $19,000,000 will be expended for cars and the other $6,000,000 for locomotives. As already announced, the company will require 19,000 freight and coal cars for 1902, the greater number of which have been already ordered.

Eighteen Circuits on One Wire.

BOULDER, Colo., Nov. 23.—Dr. William Duane, professor of physics at the State university, has just been granted a patent for an invention by which a large number of telegraph messages can be sent over one wire and return at the same time. In the physical laboratory at the university it is said that he has had as many as eighteen circuits working on the same wire and return all at the same time.

Another Exposition Assured.

PORTLAND, Or., Nov. 26.—Canvassers for subscriptions to the Lewis and Clark centennial exposition, which it is proposed to hold in this city in 1905, began their work yesterday. It is understood that practically the entire capital stock of the corporation, $300,000, is assured as the result of the day's work.

All Right but the Whistles.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. — Two American express passenger locomotives which have been in use for nearly nine months in Bavaria have proved entirely satisfactory except as to their whistles, whose sound is pronounced "unearthly." This information has been communicated to the state department by Consul General Mason at Berlin.

Great Chicken Farms.

There are great chicken farms in Virginia. The land down in the Old Dominion is become so poor that it will not grow crops, so they are going into the poultry business. Salem, Rivington and Riverton have immense poultry farms.

"Quick Lunch" is one of the commonest of city signs. The sign doesn't say "a healthy lunch of good food"—the character of the food apparently is not considered. It's just a quick lunch—eat and get away. Is it any wonder that the stomach breaks down? Food is thrown at it, sloppy, indigestible and innutritious food, very often, and the stomach has to do the best it can. Normally there should be no need for medical assistance for the stomach. But the average method of life is abnormal and while this continues there will always be a demand for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the one medicine which can be relied on to cure diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It is a medicine designed for the stomach, and to cure through the stomach remote diseases which have their cause in the derangement of the stomach and digestive and nutritive system. It cures when all else fails.

A MOST SEASONABLE NUMBER.

McClure's for December.

No one will ask for better holiday reading than that which the Christmas number of McClure's Magazine will furnish. First and foremost, of course, is John LaFarge's article on "Michael Angelo," the first of a series in which during the following year this great artist and critic of our own day will discuss in the pages of McClure's the greatest artist of the past.

But at this cheerful time of the year fiction is especially seasonable, and it needs but a glance at the title page of the number to show that it provides this not only in a right Christmas-like abundance, but also in range of style and variety of subject to satisfy every taste and stimulate every interest. There are, in fact, no less than seven separate short stories, most of them by writers already well known to readers of McClure's, and all of them certain to stick in the memory and provoke a desire for more from the same source.

"A Mendicant," by Adachi Kinnosuki, is a tale of Japan in the heyday of romance, touchingly simple in plot and full of the spirit of that medieval idealism which finds its prototypes in the West in the tales of the troubadours and minstrels. Again, for the briskly humorous style of recital, it would be hard to excel Herminie Templeton's vivacious account of "Darby Gill and the Good People." Life of to-day is variously dealt with by H. A. Crowell in "The Pictures and the Pineapples," a story of the Italian quarter of New York; by Theodore Dreiser in "A True Patriarch," the fitting title to the portrait of the old man it portrays; by John Swain in an "Independent Boy," a sketch of the unique juvenile court of Cook County, Illinois; and by Ray Stannard Baker in "At the Tunnel's End," the story of two brave men who risk their lives in the pressure workings of a submarine tunnel. In another Emmy Lou story, "The Shadow of a Tragedy," George Madden Martin continues a now famous series.

In this number, also, commences a serial certain to attract national attention—Stewart Edward White's "The Forest Runner," a novelette, the scene of which is laid in the forests of northern Michigan.

Stranger almost than any of these is the true account, by Augustus Bridle and J. K. Macdonald, of the eight days' wanderings of an American, Charles Bunn, in the Arctic circle. Yet not a word of "Lost in the Land of the Midnight Sun" stretches in the least beyond the truth; indeed, much of the sufferings of the man has been left to the reader's imagination—a more explicit recital would have been too horrible.

Last, but not least, we have another of Miss Morris's stage recollections (of Salvini this time) and another of William Allen White's characterizations of the men whom people want to know the truth about and about whom Mr. White has found so much truth to say, this time of Senator Platt.

The illustrations of the number are remarkably fine. Mr. LaFarge's article is to be illustrated with reproductions in tint from photographs of some of Michael Angelo's greatest paintings and sculptures. The stories will be illustrated with pictures that illustrate not only in the sense of a bare literal visualization of episode, but in that finer adjustment of style which catches and reproduces the very motive and spirit of the story.

The Christmas "New" Lippincott.

In the Christmas number of "Lippincott's Magazine" there appears a completed novel by Louis Evan Shipman, the author of "D'Arcy of the Guards." As a compliment to its hero, the title is "Ralph Tarrant." There is the same sparkle and spirit so much admired in the author's earlier book, while in plot this may be said to outdistance its predecessor.

There are many short stories, one of these is the latest love-story of the sea by Cyrus Townsend Brady. It is called "The Captain of H. B. M. Ship Diamond Rock." It is as stirring as anything the distinguished author has yet done, and tells how a seaman commanded a fortified rock.

"The Unfinished Elegy," by Karl Edwin Harriman, is a pathetic Christmas story about a musician.

A charming sort of "Alice in Wonderland" story is contributed by a young Englishwoman, E. Ayrton. It is entitled "The Little Gate of Fairyland."

Paul Laurence Dunbar's story called "The Visiting of Mother Danbury" continues his series of tales about types of Ohio country people.

"King Edward's Coronation," by Mrs. Belloc-Lowndes, of London, tells definitely of the event which will happen in a few months. The august ceremony is described in a way that seems to carry the picture with it. The Queen's part in the program is also explained.

With Christmas in the air, Agnes Repplier's talk about "The Oppression of Gifts" must find a ready echo in many hearts. She treats the subject in her own keenly witty way.

A paper by Edmund Gosse, LL.D., about "The Best Books," is both good reading and helpful, coming from this scholarly source.

Some quaint old forgotten legends about Christmas are told anew by Abbie Farwell Brown in her contribution entitled "Christmas Stories of the Saints."

I. Zangwill's two poems, "Sea of Marmora" and "Smyrna Harbor," are rarely beautiful specimens of the prose writer's versatility, and breathe of his recent travels in the Orient.

Two Christmas poems of unusual merit are "The Ballad of the Scullion-Maid," by Theodosia Garrison, and Zitella Cocke's "Bethlehem." Other poems are contributed by Meribah Reed, Charles Elmer Jenney, and Mary E. Stickney.

The "Walnuts and Wine" department this month is merry with a Yule-tide flavor.

Lots of fellows get cold feet waiting for dead men's shoes.

AWFUL EXPERIENCE WITH HEART DISEASE.—Mr. L. J. Law, Toronto, Can., writes "I was so sorely troubled with heart disease that I was unable for eighteen months to lie down in bed lest I smother. After taking one dose of Dr. Agnew's Heart Cure, I retired and slept soundly. I used one bottle and the trouble has not returned."

WILD NORTHEASTER

Wide Stretch of Coast Swept by November Gale.

SHIPS AND SUMMER RESORTS SUFFER

Heavy Damage Done by High Seas Along New York, New Jersey and Connecticut Shores.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The heavy northeast gale which raged along the coast for twenty hours did a vast amount of damage in and about this city. In the upper and lower bays the storm blew with great fury. An unusually high tide washed up on the Staten Island shores, doing considerable damage to docks, small boats and other craft. The Staten Island Rapid Transit railroad track between Tompkinsville and Stapleton was obstructed by wreckage from pile drivers and a small schooner which was driven ashore and the wreckage piled up on the railroad track. At Clifton, Staten Island, the Richmond Ice company's dock was undermined, and 600 tons of coal were lost and part of the Rapid Transit company's tracks swept away. At South Beach booths were swept into the lower bay, and a vessel moored at Stapleton drifted on to the beach. She was finally saved.

Driven by the terrific northeast gale, the highest tide ever known along the north shore of Long Island swept inland, leaving a ribbon of wreckage that girts the shore from Astoria, in Long Island City, out to Greenport, on the extreme end of the island.

Washouts occurred on two branches of the railroad and trolley roads. Traffic was suspended on two branches of the Long Island railroad, while for more than half a day the cars of the New York and Queens County Electric railway were unable to get beyond Steinway owing to the tracks across the meadows being submerged by the tide.

Probably the greatest damage was done at North Beach, on Flushing and Bowery bays, where more than $20,000 worth of docks, paved walks, pavilions, places of amusement and other property was destroyed.

The entire fleet of the Williamsburg Yacht club was floated off by the tide and wrecked. In Flushing bay docks were damaged, boats battered to pieces and the Flushing meadows entirely submerged.

The Tribune estimates the damage done by the storm on the northern shore of Long Island sound from and including City Island to the Connecticut line at $350,000.

Broadway suffered more from the force of the gale than any other thoroughfare in this city. The wind tore down signs and smashed plate glass from the Battery to Harlem. One advertising firm estimates its loss at $10,000.

LONG BRANCH SWEPT.

Big Iron Pier Gone—Hotel and Other Buildings Wrecked.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Nov. 25.—The full rigged ship Flottbek, which went ashore at Monmouth Beach during the gale, is now resting on the sands apparently little the worse for her experience, and her crew are being cared for by the life savers of Station No. 4. The tugboat Robert Haddon is a wreck, but her crew was saved. One man, unknown, probably a resident of Long Branch, was swept away when the iron pier was wrecked. Much property damage resulted from the storm all along that portion of the Jersey coast. Just before daylight a heavy crash was heard, and when daylight came it was found that the big iron pier had gone and that only a few waving spiles remained to show where it had been.

The United States hotel at Long Branch was wrecked early in the night.

Along Ocean avenue several store fronts were blown in, and the rain beat in during the night before the openings could be boarded up. Many of the avenues are impassable, owing to fallen trees and fences being blown across them. The telephone service is almost at a standstill, owing to broken and crossed wires.

Atlantic City Suffers Loss.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 25.—The severe northeast storm washed away a considerable portion of the board walk near the Inlet pavilion, involving a loss of several thousand dollars. The yachtsmen's wharf was also damaged, while small boats anchored near the inlet were torn from their moorings and washed to sea. Several houses on the upper end of the walk had steps torn away by the waves and the lower floors flooded. The street car tracks were submerged to such an extent that travel was interrupted for awhile.

Heavy Losses at Asbury Park.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Nov. 25.—The storm struck Asbury Park with more force than any in recent years. The wind during the night attained a velocity of seventy miles an hour and did much damage to cottages. The great waves rolled across Ocean avenue, and the surf rolled across the beach and into Wesley lake, overflowing it, something that never occurred since Asbury Park was located. The water of the lake flooded cellars and made the streets in that vicinity almost impassable.

Great Damage on Connecticut Coast.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 25.—The damage done by the severe storm of the last twenty-four hours has been the greatest in some instances in the history of the state along the water front, and the damage will reach $50,000 or more.

NEW ARMORED BEETLE.

It Preys on All Sorts of Caterpillars and Carries a Cruel, Death-Dealing Lance.

Nature has once more proved that she knows how to manage affairs in her numerous departments. While the suburbs are still bewailing a plague of caterpillars she has begun the work of extermination. She has sent a bug to do the work, and it is a wonderful bug indeed—a bug errant, one might say, for it has a lance and a suit of armor and just as much devotion to duty as any knight one ever read about.

This remarkable bug does not seem to have any mission upon earth except to fight caterpillars. It would rather fight than eat, and whenever it fights it eats, so that it takes an enthusiastic interest in the campaign. Its appetite would be disgraceful in a bug of less exemplary pursuits. There is a specimen in the Philadelphia North American office, says that paper, which has devoured more than ten times its weight in caterpillars in one day.

THE CATERPILLAR'S ENEMY.
(Unattractive Beetle That Is Delighting Eastern Gardeners.)

But the most remarkable thing about this ferocious insect is its method of attack. It does not use sharp claws, like some beetles, nor poison, like spiders. It has a little way of its own.

Fastened by a flexible joint to the lower part of the body is a lance and with this deadly weapon the bug does rapid execution. It attacks a caterpillar like a torpedo boat attacking an unprotected cruiser. It creeps on its prey quietly, then makes a sudden rush. Raising itself when near the victim, it lets the lance drop forward, then leaps upon the poor, fuzzy thing and drives the sharp point home.

There follows a violent struggle, of course. The caterpillar squirms and twists and rolls itself about, but the lance holds and there is no escape.

The bug does not let go until it has satisfied itself. Gradually the form of the caterpillar shrinks and when its little enemy withdraws the lance and backs away there is only the skin of the worm left.

The bug is about three-eighths of an inch long and oval in shape. It has six legs and two delicate feelers. The back is curiously marked, the front part being a light brown, the back part dull yellow. There are markings in black, in which may be traced a caricature of a Japanese face. Underneath the insect is colored light yellow and light green.

MEMORIAL TO HUMBERT.

Erected in the Pantheon at Rome by the Officers and Men of the Italian Artillery.

The monument which was recently unveiled in the pantheon in Rome to the memory of King Humbert is a masterpiece of sculpture, which has received the praise of the majority of the art critics of the old world. The creator of this monument is Prof. Diego Sarti, of Bologna, whose reputation was established over a decade ago, when he exhibited his Venus at the Bologna exposition in 1888. Since then many of the fountains in European capitals were fashioned by his hand.

TRIBUTE TO HUMBERT.
(Erected in the Pantheon at Rome by the Italian Artillery.)

The memorial in the pantheon is remarkably bold in outline. It is the expression of sorrow and gratitude of the Italian artillery among whom King Humbert was exceedingly popular.

Two life-sized lions represent respectively the murdered king and the artillry. The lion, representing the dying monarch, has a shield of honor on which are the names of Villafranca, Casamicciola, Busca, Napoli — the names rendered memorable in the life of King Humbert. The other lion has a shield with the names of Goita and Peshiera, the two places where the Italian artillery distinguished itself in so brilliant a manner during the century.

BEAUTY

Sleeplessness Wrecks It, But Dr. Greene's Nervura is the Unfailing Help and Cure.

Sleeplessness drives away beauty and shatters health. It breaks down the strongest and kills energy. One sleepless night works more lasting injury than days of overwork.

Insomnia is Nature's revoltagainst outrage. The nervesare being tortured and they rebel. Nearly always stomach trouble accompanies it. Thewhole body is being starved. Nerves and blood and muscle and tissue cry out for food. Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and Nerve remedy is the unfailing help for this condition. It works wonders and that right speedily.

Mrs. Martha Jordan, New Vineyard, Maine, says:

"I was in bad shape when I began to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I could not sleep nights, and many times had to get up and walk the floor. Ihad no appetite and what little I did eat soured in a few moments. I was nervous, weak and trembling, and got up in the morning more tired than when I went to bed, and felt all down,—in fact, could not see anything worth living for.

"After taking one bottle of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, I could sleepall night and feel rested in the morning, my appetite was better, food did not sour, and I felt better all over. Now when I have taken four bottles I feel like a new being."

Take courage if you suffer in this way, or with any chronic trouble of the nerves and blood. The glorious record of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is written in the grateful words of thousands it has cured. It will cure you. Dr. Greene's advice is given free by call or letter. His address is 101 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

Look out for a finely executed counterfeit silver dollar. This State is being flooded with them and they are said to be the best counterfeit that has been discovered in years.

The auction sale of town lots by the Land Improvement Co. was adjourned to next Saturday, on account of the storm. This is a chance to secure a desirable lot on easy term.

Constable Thomas McGuiley of Conyngham township, and assistant John Durrah, brought three prisoners to town last week. Perjury is the charge against them, and the party aggrieved is Adam Friday, of Wilburton. They were placed in jail to await the action of the grand jury.

Measles is epidemic in the vicinity of Washingtonville. The contagious disorder was first discovered last week. On Sunday, Dr. J. O. Hoffa of Washingtonville, administered to eight patients between 2 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon. It is feared that the disease will cause the schools to be closed.

The sportsman who drags his gun between fence rails or through a thicket with the hammer up and the muzzle at his heart continues to get his name in the obituary column of his favorite newspaper. It is little wonder that fatalities are so numerous when the careless manner in which fire arms are handled is considered.

Remember it is more blessed to give than to receive. See if you cannot make some poor family happy today.

Pennsylvania now has a forest reserve of 324,000 acres. This is one result of the movement which began with the observance of Arbor Day in the schools. People everywhere begin to see the importance of planting trees and caring for them, and of legislation designed to secure a national treatment of trees and forests. Moreover, the decisions of the Courts have helped to stop the ruthless mutilation and destruction of trees along telegraph and trolley lines, and the sentiments awakened in the hearts of the young through the observance of Arbor Day have reinforced and strengthened the teachings of experts in regard to the deterioration of agricultural lands through the denudation of our forest areas.

The Leader Store Co., Ltd., certainly does not believe in doing by halves. To make their school marm souvenir a success, they spent money freely. They are applying the same magic touch to their rug contest. The management have made up their minds to double their business for 1902, and are now planting the seed. This rug is not "given with a pound of tea" article, but a carpet which would beautify any home in Columbia county. And the plan for obtaining it is simplicity itself. The floors are crowded with goods picked and chosen by their careful, tasteful buyer and manager, Miss C. E. Kelly. A dollar is well spent and will give to the successful guesser that $75.00 rug.

The man who rocks the boat is at last to be tried for manslaughter. Last Summer Miss Finefrock, of York, was drowned in Lake Royer, just across the border in Maryland, by the upsetting of a pleasure boat. There were others in the party, all of whom escaped but Miss Finefrock. Among the others was Frank Rinehart, the young man who persisted in rocking the boat, answering the remonstrances with the boast that he was an expert swimmer and could save the whole party should anything happen. What he was evidently seeking did happen, for he kept on rocking the boat until it turned over. Rinehart made no effort to save anybody but himself. The Grand Jury of Washington County, Md., has indicted the frolicsome young gentleman for manslaughter, and the trial to ensue will attract pretty wide attention. If rocking a boat with fatal results is manslaughter in Maryland it will be nothing less in any State. —Press.

THOUSANDS SAW PICTURES.

Lyman H. Howe Draws an Immense Audience to the Armory.

One of the largest crowds the armory has ever held last night saw the Lyman H. Howe moving pictures and it was also one of the best pleased audiences ever assembled there. Heretofore Mr. Howe has given his exhibition, first in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium and then in the Nesbitt and as on every occasion the houses were filled he conceived the idea of giving an entertainment in the armory, with its vast floor space. The fact that he succeeded in filling this great audience room also is the biggest kind of a testimonial for him.

Mr. Howe's entertainment was well worth the immense audience. He has the reputation everywhere in this country of giving the best moving picture entertainment on the road and everywhere he goes there are big houses. Mr. Howe spends big sums of money for the latest and best pictures and is thus enabled to get exclusive subjects both from European and American manufactures. He makes an annual trip to Europe to see what is being produced there.

The series is the best Mr. Howe has ever given in Wilkes-Barre. Perhaps the most interesting just at this time are those from the Pan-American Exposition and the McKinley scenes. In the former the camera was on a naphtha launch that made a circuit of the Exposition grounds in the canal and the audience was enabled to see the buildings, etc., just as if it had been on the launch with the camera.—Wilkes-Barre Record.

ELIAS CREASY

Passes Away at the Residence of his Daughter in Roaringcreek Township.

The residence of Mrs. Clarence Ceaver, in Roaringcreek township, had a visitation of death on Friday last when her aged father Elias Creasy, was called from this vale of sorrow to the home beyond. Mr. Creasy had been in failing health, for a long time, due in a large measure to advanced years. He was born in Mifflin township, October 12, 1819. The chief occupation of his life was that of a farmer, in which he engaged early in his existence and continued until he was compelled to retire about twelve years ago. Although not demonstrative in manner his kindly disposition attracted to him a large circle of friends who found in him the sterling characteristics of clean manhood, which won their regard and esteem as well as enduring friendship.

The children who are left to mourn the loss of a kind father are four in number, namely, Mrs. Clarence Cleaver, of Roaringcreek, Mrs. Anna Yeager, of Plymouth, and Mrs. Clara Lee and Clark Creasy, of Shamokin. There are also four brothers surviving, John P., of Forks, Philip, of Berwick, Stephen residing in Iowa, and Lafayette, of Bloomsburg.

The funeral was held on Monday. Sorrowing friends viewed the remains, after which they were borne to their final resting place in the cemetery near the Brick church in Center township.

OBJECT TO GRADE CROSSING.

In the proceedings of the equity case of Catawissa and Bloomsburg Electric Railway Company, against the Columbia and Montour Electric Railway Co., which was called before Judge C. R. Savidge, of Sunbury, presiding at a special session of court here on Monday, William H. Rhawn, plaintiff's counsel, moved to withdraw the bill, upon payments of costs, because if irregularities. He then presented a bill in equity, with the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company as plaintiffs, to restrain the Columbia and Montour Electric Railway Company, and M. F. D. Scanlan & Company, defendants, from crossing the P. & R. tracks in Catawissa at grade. Upon request a preliminary injunction was granted.

The Catawissa and Bloomsburg Electric Railway Company also obtained a preliminary injunction, against the Columbia and Montour Electric Railway Company to prevent them from using certain streets of Catawissa which are covered by the former Company's charter. Argument on both injunctions will be heard before his Honor Judge Savidge, at seven o'clock p. m on Tuesday next.

A MEMORIAL BROCHURE,

By Rev. G. H. Hemingway, D. D.

A handsome booklet has just been issued from THE COLUMBIAN office, entitled, "A Memorial Brochure on Our Last Martyr President, containing also a few Short Homilies on Anarchy, Yellow Journalism, etc." It contains a memorial address delivered at the Union Service held in the Bloomsburg M. E. Church on Sept. 14th a sermon on Anarchy vs. Christianity, preached in the Presbyterian Church on Sept. 15; a sermon on Our Martyr President, preached in the same place on Sept. 22; and an address on Yellow Journalism, delivered in the Opera House on Sept. 21, before the Columbia County Veterans' Association. It also contains half-tone cuts of President McKinley; the President delivering his last address, at Buffalo, the day before he was shot; the First Presbyterian Church, of Bloomsburg; and Rev. G. H. Hemingway, D. D., the author of the book.

The Brochure contains 38 pages of reading matter, and is handsomely bound in a flexible black cover, printed in red, and tied with a purple silk cord.

The addresses were delivered in a most impressive manner, with an eloquence inspired by the solemnity of the subject, and the awfulness of the occasion. Dr. Hemingway enjoys a high reputation as a public speaker, and these addresses are among his very best efforts.

Through the liberality of some of the author's friends a copy of the book was presented to every teacher at the Institute last week. It is on sale at Bidleman's, and the price is nominal, ten cents. Only a limited number of copies were printed, so that those desiring one should secure it soon.

Benevolent Society's Appeal.

To the Citizens of Bloomsburg:

The United Benevolent Society earnestly solicits a renewal of the generous Thanksgivingday donations and contributions of last year. It is our duty, and it ought to be our privilege to recognize the Giver of good for his manifold mercies and to voice our gratitude in a formal and public way, and He has said "He who giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord, and He will repay him."

If you would like to have a share in giving those in need, a cause for Thanksgiving on this day, take advantage of this opportunity.

By order of President.

MRS. EDWIN H. ENT, Sec.

The pressing need is money, but provisions and all kinds of clothing will be very acceptable and can be sent to the Y. M. C. A. rooms in charge of Mr. Armstrong.

McKinley Photographs.

A few photographs of President McKinley making his last address, at Buffalo, the day before he was shot, can be obtained at this office. Large size, former price 50 cents, will be closed out at 25 cents. There are but a few left, and no more will be printed at that price, so secure them early. tf.

THANKSGIVING DINNER.

Dinner and supper will be served in the M. E. Church at Buck Horn on Thanksgiving Day, for twenty-five cents each. The proceeds are for the benefit of the church, and a liberal patronage should be bestowed.
